

Contents

| | |
|---|-----------|
| Preface | 11 |
| 1. Global English | 15 |
| 1.1. Global English and related matters | 15 |
| 1.1.1. The spread and speakers of global English | |
| 1.2. Models of global English | 20 |
| 1.2.1. Sociology of language / 1.2.2. Applied linguistics / 1.2.3. Futurologist | |
| Review questions | 27 |
| Discussion | 27 |
| 2. The sociolinguistics of global English | 29 |
| 2.1. Linguistics as a socially agnostic discipline | 29 |
| 2.1.1. Linguistics, language and languages | |
| 2.2. The study of the relationship between language and society | 34 |
| 2.2.1. The origins of sociolinguistics / 2.2.2. Sociolinguistics / 2.2.3. The theoretical status of sociolinguistics / 2.2.4. Variationist sociolinguistics / 2.2.5. Interactional sociolinguistics | |
| 2.3. Language, identity, culture and power | 45 |
| 2.3.1. Language and identity / 2.3.2. Language and culture / 2.3.3. The power of language | |
| Review questions | 52 |
| Discussion | 53 |

| | | |
|-----------|---|------------|
| 3. | The identities of global English | 55 |
| 3.1. | The national identity of English | 55 |
| | 3.1.1. Nations and national languages / 3.1.2. National identity / 3.1.3. British/English national identity / 3.1.4. National/standard language / 3.1.5. National language ideology / 3.1.6. National communities and ethnic groups / 3.1.7. English as a post-national language | |
| 3.2. | The verbal repertoires of global English | 68 |
| | 3.2.1. Hybrid cultures / 3.2.2. Hybrid languages / 3.2.3. Language contact / 3.2.4. Linguistic nativization and acculturation / 3.2.5. Cultural and linguistic creolization | |
| | Review questions | 84 |
| | Discussion | 85 |
| 4. | Global English as a language of power | 87 |
| 4.1. | Language and social change | 87 |
| | 4.1.1. On globalization / 4.1.2. The sociolinguistics of globalization / 4.1.3. English as the language of economic globalization | |
| 4.2. | Language, power, ideology and discourse | 93 |
| | 4.2.1. Language and power and the power of language / 4.2.2. Introduction to the concept of power / 4.2.3. Power as institutions and social stratification / 4.2.4. Power as ideology and hegemony / 4.2.5. Power as consensus and behaviour / 4.2.6. Power as discursive practices | |
| 4.3. | Debating global English as a language power | 98 |
| | 4.3.1. Linguistic imperialism / 4.3.2. The discourses of English as an international language | |
| | Review questions | 107 |
| | Discussion | 107 |
| | Conclusions | 109 |
| | Bibliography | III |